

The Soulful Heavenly Stars

Old-Time Gospel

Soar on eagles' wings to old-time gospel by the Soulful Heavenly Stars, a seamless eight member gospel group employing the full male vocal range. Regulars at the New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival, the House of Blues and the Creole Queen Paddlewheeler, the Heavenly Stars anchored the European tour entitled "The Spirit of Louisiana" to the Netherlands, Germany, Denmark, Switzerland and Sweden.

Internationally known for their rich vocal harmonies, the ensemble has also performed as the background choir for Michael Bolton, Charmaine Neville and Lillian Boutte. Their concert series has been televised in Japan in association with NHK, Japan's Broadcasting Company.

The full eight-member vocal and instrument ensemble offers a powerful experience.
